LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

WANT HIM TO STAY.

Rev. T. W. Pinkerton's Resignation Not Accepted—Will He Remain?

The fourteen members of the official board of the Christian church held an important meeting last night. It was to take action on the resignation of the pastor, Rev. T. W. Pinkerton, who has been in charge of the church eight years, and a few Sundays ago surprised the congregation by tendering his resignation to take effect September 1st. The announcement was received with general regret, and last night the official board adopted resolutions expressive of the confidence of the church in the pastor, and declining to accept the resignation. Rev. Pinkerton is asked to remain at the former salary, $1500. In the Christian church government the matter rests wholly with the church and the pastor, and now the church is anxiously awaiting the decision of the pastor, who will doubtless make his final decision in a few days.

The church has 600 members, and it has flourished steadily since Rev. Pinkerton took charge eight years ago. He is generally recognized as one of the ablest ministers in Decatur, and his retirement would be a serious loss to the church and the community in which he has hosts of personal friends.

Selling Perishable Fruit.

It was amusing to see people trudging homeward at Champaign under loads of boxes of tomatoes, cucumbers, and potatoes, purchased from the belated Illinois Central cars Wednesday afternoon. The crowd was very large and the vegetables were sold as fast as they could be handed out of the car. Prices were very low. New potatoes were sold at 60 cents a barrel, tomatoes at 30 cents a crate, cucumbers and squashes at 25 cents a crate. Four carloads of these were sold. The fruits are in refrigerator cars, which are supplied with ice, and will probably be kept as long as possible. It was a common thing to-day for neighbors to exchange cucumbers for tomatoes, etc., and vice versa. The sale to private consumers has ceased and only retail dealers are being supplied.—Champaign Gazette.

Consumption.

Ballard's Horehound Syrup.

No single disease has played such sad havoc with the human race as Consumption. No other disease approaches so stealthily. Its early symptoms are ignored because it is thought only a Cold or Hacking Cough, which is neglected until the grim monster has such a hold that nothing but death can relieve it. Ballard's Horehound Syrup has removed the grip of that grim terror from many a throat. If taken in time it will give a permanent cure, and in the worst stages it will give surprising relief. Try its soothing and healing virtues. Do not put it off until too late. Sold by John A. Swearingen, Druggist.

NANCY WARREN, who it is claimed, was the oldest person in Southern Illinois, was buried at Centralia last Saturday. She was born in North Carolina, September 6, 1782, and was at the time of her death, 107 years, 9 months and 7 days old. She was the widow of Alexander Warren, who was a soldier in the war of 1812, and she has lived for many years on the pension paid her by the government. She has a daughter living who is 74 years old. Mrs. Warren has often said she could remember George Washington, especially the time of his death. Her memory of the war of 1812 and also of the Black Hawk war was good.

EVERY TWO AND A HALF MINUTES.

The blood makes a circuit of the body every 2½ minutes, delivering nutriment and taking back waste matter to be filtered out by the liver and kidneys and removed from the body through the bowels and the urinary secretions. Any stoppage or obstruction of this process may produce various forms of disease, such as Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Constipation, Headache, Debility, and bad blood with its multiplied evils (boils, blotches, pimples, sores, eruptions, abscesses and the like). When such obstructions exist as evidenced by the presence of complaints similar to those just mentioned, the best medicine to use is Burdock Blood Bitters, which will purify the secretions, removing all impure and effete matter through the proper channels. By restoring healthy action of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, B. B. B. removes all impurities, from the blood from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore.

THE BORDERLAND.

Upon the borderland we wait,
Our labors quite are o'er;
We see bright gleams from Golden Gate
Light up the silver shore

Our ship lies moored upon the sea,
For winds are hushed in sleep,
And night's black robes across the lea
Cast shadows dark and deep.

We bide abide—just till the day
Dispels the shades of night,
And wafts again the wingless winds
To press our sails for flight

Then wide we spread the white winged sail,
And hasten to be free.
We wade one on the threatening gale
That lashes white the sea

Now high o'er storm cloud and the blast
That sweeps the angry sea
Our spirit reacheth, clingeth fast,
O God, in faith to thee.

Pretty Fine Writing.

Up in a book dealer's place in Broadway, not far from Eighth street, curiosity seekers and men who can afford to indulge their love for queer manuscripts can find, perhaps, the strangest bit of writing known. On a piece of parchment like paper, five feet wide and six feet five inches high, are written all the books of the Old Testament, forming the design of a window in King Solomon's temple. No lines are used. Written words form the whole design. The writing is very minute, but legible to the naked eye. Ink of three colors was used, but principally black ink. It is a very intricate piece of work, marvelous in its way, and must have taken considerable time and patience.

The work was executed by one David Davidson, apparently in a mood of religious fervor. He was blind of an eye, and his manner of writing was to lie at full length upon the floor, on his stomach, with his eye (he was near sighted) very close to the paper. He died some twenty years ago. Each chapter and verse is numbered. The writing is not running script, but each letter is separate; nor are the letters much, if any, larger than a thirty-second of an inch high.—New York Press.

Blood in the Body.

The amount of blood in the body is one-thirtieth the weight of the body, or five or six quarts, or eleven or twelve pounds. The average man dies when he has lost one-fifth of his blood. The heart with each contraction ejects six ounces of blood from each ventricle, at a pressure in the left ventricle of one-fourth of an atmosphere. The heart sends all the blood around the body of the average man once every thirty seconds, or in about thirty-five contractions of the organ. A deadly poison injected into the veins kills in fifteen seconds on the average; injected under the skin in about four minutes. A cubic millimeter of blood contains 5,080,000 blood cells in the average man, and about 4,560,000 in the average woman. There are 300 red cells to every one white blood cell. The red cells have an average diameter of 1-3,200 of an inch, the white cells of 1-25,000 of an inch. The specific gravity of blood is 1,055. The frequency of the pulse in the new born is 150; in infants 1 year old, 140; at 2 years, 95; from 7 to 14, 85; in adult man, 75; woman, 80. The respirations are one-fourth as rapid as the pulse.—St. Louis Republic.

The First Step.

Perhaps you are run down, can't eat, can't sleep, can't think, can't do anything to your satisfaction, and you wonder what ails you. You should heed the warning, you are taking the the first step into Nervous Prostration. You need a Nerve Tonic and in Electric Bitters you will find the exact remedy for restoring your nervous system to its normal, healthy condition. Surprising results follow the use of this great Nerve Tonic and Alterative. Your appetite returns, good digestion is restored, and the Liver and Kidneys resume healthy action. Try a bottle. Price 50c at King & Wood' Drug Store.

LIVING in Iowa is as proud a mother as the stars and stripes ever floated over. Prior to the late war, Mrs. H. B. Merchant, then a widow, resided at Rockford, Ill., and from that place sent eleven sons out to fight for her country and theirs. For having sent so many sons to do gallant service she has been granted a modest pension, by special act of congress, and can pass the few remaining years of life in comparative comfort. In the entire history of the war there was not, it is believed, a case which equals that of Mrs. Merchant.

J. A. SWEARINGEN, the druggist, wishes to remind his patrons that it is a dangerous policy to wait until taken sick before buying a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Every family should be provided with some reliable remedy for bowel complaints, ready for immediate use, whenever required, during the summer months, and this remedy is unquestionably far superior to any other. It can always be depended upon, and is pleasant and safe to take. It is put up in 25 and 50 cent bottles.

WE have in transit 140 "Peddler" Smyrna Rugs, same as advertised and sold at 25 cents. Our price will be 15 cents. Also 140 ditto, 18x36, same as advertised and sold at 88 cents. WHERE TO SPEND THE SUMMER.

If Undecided, Perhaps this will Help You.

Where to go, what to do, how to do it, and the expense involved—questions agitating so many households contemporary with the advent of summer, are all answered satisfactorily in the pages of the hand-some volume entitled "Health and Pleasure," just issued by the Passenger Department of the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad.

The book is profusely illustrated, contains several valuable maps, and the information is presented in a concise, yet readable manner. It embraces an extensive list of summer hotels and boarding houses along the Hudson, among the Catskills, in the Adirondack Mountains, at Saratoga, Lake George, Niagara Falls, and other famous resorts.

Copies of the book may be obtained free upon application to W. H. Jerome, General Western Agent, No. 97 Clark St., Chicago, or will be mailed post-paid upon receipt of ten cents in stamps, by George H. Daniels, General Passenger Agent, Grand Central Station, New York.

What is Needed.

The great public desire a medicine that is an absolute specific for a cough or cold, that allays inflammation, restores the tone to the system and acts as a tonic and stimulant, while it is harmless and can be given to children with impunity. These qualities are all contained in Reid's Germain Cough and Kidney Cure. It is composed of simple ingredients, which combined in one preparation form the most efficacious remedy yet tried for coughs, colds and kidney complaints. No one who has ever tried it has ever regretted it. It is an absolute cure for these diseases, as can be proved by the testimony of thousands of reputable witnesses. It is peculiarly efficacious in old age. The dry, wheezing cough, the tightness across the chest, the tendency towards pneumonia, the throat troubles, that are the scourge and affliction of old age, are all relieved, and, in most cases, cured by the use of Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure. Many cases that were pronounced incurable, and that manifested unmistakable signs of consumption, have been not only relieved but the patients have been restored to health and were able to resume their occupations, which before taking this great preparation they had been obliged to give up. In this particular Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure has never been excelled by any similar remedy. People who are racked by a hard, dry cough at night are enabled by the use of Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure to obtain a most refreshing sleep, and to arise in the morning on the road to recovery, and from a single dose. This is not a solitary instance but in repeated cases. For sale by all druggists.

W. W. MOORE, of the Grand Opera House, Des Moines, is an early settler in that part of Iowa, and has had a great deal of experience in his time. Every person," he says, "should have a bottle." For sale by J. A. Swearingen, druggist.

A DREAM.

To prove the correctness of a dream read the following: Forty-five years ago I was by a preparation of roots and herbs, cured of a cancer that had consumed my nose and upper lip. My constant dream, day and night, was that this remedy placed before the public would perform miracles in curing blood diseases in others as it had in my own case. I accordingly named it Hibbard's Herb Extract, warranted it purely vegetable, and the wonderful cures of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Cancer and other blood diseases recorded on my circular proves the merits of this remedy. Send for circular and printed history of my own case. Mrs. J. Hibbard, President Hibbard Herb Extract Co., 266 Wabash Avenue, Chicago.

Improvement, the Promise of Cure.

No array of words can give a dyspeptic one-half the hope that comes from the relief which always follows the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, and the promise of cure is never broken.

"Having suffered from dyspepsia for two or three years, I decided to try B. B. B. and after taking one bottle I found myself so much better I got another bottle, and after taking that I had no more need of medicine.

"MRS. G. C. WHITE, Taberg, N. Y."

Don't pay for daily bread and then groan with dyspepsia, when a bottle of B. B. B. will give you relief. Repeated tests with uniform success prove that dyspepsia cannot withstand B. B. B.

A New Dictator.

Those who have taken the pains to examine the southern Democratic papers which are sent over the north in the interest of different "boom towns," have observed that while they invite northern capital to seek investment in the south, they, at the same time, give those who seek homes and investments in the south to understand that every gentleman will be expected to vote the Democratic ticket in that section. In other words, those who may choose to go south may have perfect liberty to invest their capital without being interfered with; but when it comes to the matter of party affiliations, every northern man is expected to concede that the southern bourbon knows better than he what his political opinions should be.

This spirit is not indigenous to the Democracy of the south alone, but has its counterpart in the Democratic make-up of the north. The chief difference is that in the south the Democratic spirit of dogmatism is enforced; but in the north such dictators are ignored. Of this fact it may be well for the Review to make a note. At this time it is undertaking to dictate to Republicans whom they should nominate and for whom they should not vote. We presume that it will be safe to say that when the Republicans of Macon county have called upon the Review to advise them it will be time enough for that paper to take its chances on increasing its wash bill. It is now formally proposing to lead the Republicans in a bolt against Rowell.

While Rowell is busily engaged in Congress in unseating southern Democrats who were never elected and formulating and pushing to its passage a Federal election bill, with a view of minimizing frauds in the south and other Democratic states and cities, it is quite natural that the Review should offer its services to the Republicans for the defeat of Rowell.

The Republican party has had, as a rule, good leaders. It has suffered some by poor leaders but neither the party as a whole nor any element within it has ever marched to the time of the "Slipper Slopper" and we predict that no part of it will begin it now even at the extremely low round trip rates offered by the captain of the free trade crew whose recruiting and general all-around-reform-office may be found among the cobwebs at 122 West Prairie street.

"When your neighbors (the South) have built a monument to their defeated leader (Lee) and you are depending on vegetation to mark the last resting place of your victorious General, it is very natural for you to break into a tirade against monuments."—The Review.

From the construction of the above one is justifiable in assuming that the Review was not, and is not now, on either side of this contest. This may account for the fact that in the most radical and illtempered declarations of those who defend the "lost cause" the Review has seen nothing for unfavorable criticism. To be altogether consistent, however, it will be necessary for that paper to put a guard over the "office devil" and restrain him from abusing those who refuse to subscribe to the glorification of the "lost cause."

CONGRESSMAN ROWELL yesterday made a very strong speech in support of his Federal election bill in the House. In the course of his remarks he particularized concerning the recent election frauds and intimidation whereupon several southern congressmen arose and claimed that in their respective districts elections were fairly held, which was probably true in those cases but the climax was reached when Breckenridge of Arkansas, whose supporters have the blood of Clayton on their garments, stated that what was said about his district was untrue. We may infer from this that Clayton is still alive.

THE Democrats of the Fourteenth congressional district can do no better than give the nomination for congress to the Review editor. He knows more about the Republican opposition to Rowell than any other living American citizen, is in full sympathy with the opposition, as he understands it, and might corral it at some favorable point in the light of the moon.

DURING the Pope campaign in Northern Virginia in 1862 the boys said, "Pope's headquarters is in the saddle and McDowell's is in a basket." The reference to McDowell was prompted by a peculiar hat or turban he wore. This incident is recalled by observing two persons whose headquarters are in baskets, directing the laying of the tracks for the Citizens' line.

THE proposition to extend the franchise of the Louisiana lottery was voted upon in the Louisiana House of Representatives yesterday. The vote stood: Yeas, 66; nays, 29. This favorable result was obtained by the promise of the lottery people that they would pay into the state treasury $1,500,000 annually. This offer bears testimony as to how badly the public is swindled by the concern.

COMMON LAW DOCKET.

Our American System.

The accumulations of the laborers of the country have increased, and the working classes of no nation in the world have such splendid deposits in savings banks as the working classes of the United States.

Listen to its own story. The deposits of all the savings banks of New England in 1886 equaled $554,532,434. The deposits in the savings banks of New York in 1886 was $482,686,730. The deposits in the savings banks of Massachusetts for the year of 1887 was $302,918,624 and the number of depositors was 944,768, or $320.67 for each depositor. The savings banks of nine states have in nineteen years increased their deposits $628,000,000. The English savings banks have in thirty-four years increased theirs $350,000,000. Our operatives deposit $7 to the English operatives $1. These vast sums represent the savings of the men whose labor has been employed under the protection policy which gives, as experience has shown, the largest possible reward to labor.

There is no one thing standing alone that so surely tests the wisdom of a National financial policy as the national credit, what it costs to maintain it, and the burden it imposes upon its citizens. It is a fact which every American should contemplate with pride that the public debt of the United States, per capita, is less than that of any other great nation of the world. Let me call the roll: Belgium's public debt, per capita, is $72.18; France, $218.27; Germany, $43.10; Great Britain, $100.09; Italy, $71.25; Peru, $140.06; Portugal, $104.18; Russia, $35.41; Spain, $73.34; United States, $33.92 on a population of 50,000,000; and now with our increased population, the per capita would be under $25. England increased her rate of taxation between 1870 and 1880 over 24 per cent., while the United States diminished nearly 10 per cent.

We lead all nations in agriculture, we lead all nations in mining, and we lead all nations in manufacturing. These are the trophies which we bring after twenty-nine years of a Protective Tariff. Can any other system furnish such evidence of prosperity? Yet in presence of such a showing of progress there are men found everywhere who talk about the restraints we put upon trade and the burdens we put upon the enterprise and energy of our people. There is no country in the world where individual enterprise has such a wide and varied range and where the inventive genius of man has such encouragement.—From the speech of Hon. Wm. McKinley, jr., in the House of Representatives May 7, 1890.

THE Court of Appeals in the state of New York has held that the sugar trust in that state is contrary to the laws of that state governing corporations. It is assumed by eminent counsel that this decision will throw the refineries into the hands of receivers.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

The National and State Commissioners Banqueted.

AN EVENT OF UNUSUAL BRILLIANCY.

Two Hundred Distinguished Guests and Friends of the Exposition Feasted and Entertained Under Happy Auspices.

CHICAGO, June 27.—The banquet tendered by the World's Fair States Association to the National and State Commissioners took place in the banqueting hall of the Palmer House last night and was an event of unusual brilliancy. Besides the special guests of the evening, who numbered one hundred and ten, representative and distinguished citizens to a total of 250 sat down to the table. Judge Leroy D. Thoman presided at the main table. On his right were seated Chief Justice Fuller, Judge Gresham, M. H. DeYoung, of San Francisco, and Ex-Congressman Harris, of Virginia; and on his left Bishop Fallows, Charles H. Jones, of St. Louis; W. L. Elkins, of Philadelphia; Ex-Governor Bullock, of Massachusetts, and A. L. Andrews, of New York.

At the other tables every railroad entering the city, every bank and manufacturing industry, and all the professions were represented. The floral decorations of the hall were of the most elaborate and artistic character.

Nearly three hours were occupied in discussing the menu of ten courses, and it was close toward eleven o'clock when Judge Thoman rapped for order. In a brief address, which was enthusiastically applauded, he welcomed the commissioners to the city. The coming fair, he said, would mark an epoch in the history of the universe, and its success depended upon the wisdom and energy of those surrounding him. He congratulated them upon the fact that every State and Territory was represented, that for the good of this enterprise North and South had come together, all working for one common object, and under one flag.

The following letter from President Harrison, dated June 23, was then read:

I am in receipt of the invitation on behalf of the citizens of Chicago, to attend a reception and banquet to be given on the evening of the 26th instant, to the United States Commissioners of the World's Columbian Exposition. It will be impossible for me to be present, but I avail myself of the opportunity to express my deep interest in the success of the exposition, and my sincere hope that the commissioners on the part of the United States will not fail to co-operate diligently and in the most liberal spirit with the local managers in everything calculated to make this, in fact, as well as in name, a World's Exposition. Very respectfully, yours,

BENJAMIN HARRISON.

John Boyd Thacher, of New York, responded to the toast of "the Relation of the World's Columbian Exposition to International Unity."

He said that within the walls of Chicago in 1893, Germany might obtain from Great Britain a nobler blessing than Heligoland, and England might find a thought expressed into form by the deft fingers of some German mechanic, which would be more valuable to her than twenty Zanzibars. He would rather be a member of the World's Fair Commission and bring about an exchange between two free ideas, than to effect a royal alliance, or negotiate a treaty. There was no need of disguising the fact that to many people the selection of a site so far away from the coast line seemed unwise and untimely; but it was now apparent that in this selection could be found the secret of coming success, and that in it they would have another illustration of building better than they knew.

Hon. Thomas B. Bryan, of Chicago, the working vice-president of the fair, in responding to the toast of "The Dual Government," took occasion to correct a report that had been circulated during the day to the effect that the Lake Front site had been definitely settled upon.

Hon. Charles H. Jones, of the St. Louis Republic, who responded to the toast of "The Press," was exceedingly complimentary to Chicago.

Hon. Henry Exal spoke about the fair's relation to inter-State unity; Hon. James A. McKenzie upon its relation to commerce; Hon. Mark L. McDonald upon its relation to labor, and Ex-Senator Palmer of Michigan—who as the probable president of the National commission was enthusiastically received—upon its relation to our National growth.

The closing toast to "Education and Literature" was spoken to by Ex-Governor A. G. Bullock, of Massachusetts, who declared that the same forces that had enabled the people of Chicago to build their great city would also apply to the establishment of the exposition without a possibility of failure.

It was after midnight when the speech-making had concluded and the company dispersed to the strains of "America."

The Shipwrecked Crew of the Scotch Brig Jennie.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The schooner J. N. Stearns, from Nova Scotia, brought into this port yesterday morning the shipwrecked crew, numbering ten men, of the Scotch brig Jennie, which was lost off Sable Island, on the coast of Nova Scotia, on April 23, while on a voyage from Falmouth to Boston. On the night of April 23, the Jennie was stranded on an island, a desolate strip of uninhabited land off Sable Island. Mate Donald Cox and two men were lost while endeavoring to make land in a small boat. The captain, James McDonald, and the rest of the crew afterwards reached the land, built a rude hut and lived on the island for five weeks, subsisting on sea gulls, eggs and brackish water from a pool formed by rain. They then began cruising in the boat in the hope of being picked up. After two days the Stearns came along and brought them into this port.

William Brookes Hanged.

PINE CITY, Minn., June 27.—Wm. Brookes was hanged at 3:45 a. m. today for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Coombs. The execution was the first in Pine County, and the second under the John Day Smith law which provides that the execution must take place between midnight and sunrise, without the presence of reporters.

The condemned man was unattended by clergy as he had steadfastly refused all spiritual advice. The crime for which Brookes paid the penalty was the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Coombs at Pine City, Minn., last November. His wife had been unduly intimate with Coombs, and Brooks announced his intention of leaving the country. Being indebted to Coombs he went to the house, taking his gun along for the purpose of effecting a settlement. A quarrel arose in the course of which the killing occurred. He maintained the killing of Mrs. Coombs was an accident.

REACHED THE GOAL.

THE TENSION ABSOLUTELY PAINFUL.

A Bag of Air Taken from the Mine and Examined—The Hole Plugged and Work in That Direction Abandoned.

DUNBAR, Pa., June 26.—The tension here to-night is absolutely painful. The people are without hope of finding their friends and comrades alive, but they are firm in the belief that before the morning dawns the undertakers awaiting near by will have been placed in charge of the twenty-nine dead bodies. The officers of the Dunbar Furnace Company and the mine inspectors are now making every effort to avoid another disaster when the dividing wall is broken through. It is probable that Inspector Keighley will take charge at the supreme moment. He will have with him but one man. The other men on the shift will be sent back a safe distance and remain until the air in the Hill Farm mine has been tested and pronounced safe for them to enter. There will be little delay after these precautions have been taken, and the work of rescue will be prompt. But few people here will sleep until the fate of the unfortunate men is known.

For two days twenty men have been cutting a tunnel from the Ferguson mine to the Hill Farm mine from another direction than those at work in the Mahoning mine. Their intentions have been kept very quiet as their plan were very dangerous. At ten o'clock to-night they reached within two feet of the Hill Farm mine and were stopped by the authorities. Testing machines were taken into the tunnel, a drill was forced through into the mine, and a bag of air from the Hill Farm mine was taken out for testing. The hole was then plugged.

The result of the examination of the gas was not made public. The work was stopped, however, and no further effort at rescue will be made from that direction. It is said on reliable authority no dangerous substances was in the air tested.

VICTORIOUS CORNELL.

They Win Their Race with the University of Pennsylvania Crew.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 27.—The Cornell University crew won their race with the University of Pennsylvania crew yesterday by six lengths, over a three-mile course, in the fast time of 14:13. Pennsylvania's time was 15:02. The race was very quiet and uninteresting after the first half mile, as the Pennsylvania boys gradually dropped behid, while Cornell kept increasing her lead.

Pennsylvania caught the water first and stole nearly a length on Cornell, the latter's boat not being headed straight. Pennsylvania started off with thirty-three strokes and Cornell pulled forty. Cornell moved up on even terms after the first quarter and then both crews spurted. Pennsylvania ran up to forty-three and Cornell to forty-four strokes. This was the decisive and only interesting part of the race. Pennsylvania held her place until exactly opposite the first-half flag, when they dropped to thirty-six strokes, while Cornell was rowing forty. Entering the last half both crews spurted, and in doing so Cornell caught two "crabs" in quick succession, thereby losing nearly a length. Recovering they put in a strong spurt and increased their lead, crossing the line victors six lengths ahead of Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania made a fairly good spurt at the finish, but to no effect.

The official time was: Cornell, 14:13; Pennsylvania, 15:02.

The Sugar-Trust Decision.

SARATOGA, N. Y., June 27.—A United Press reporter yesterday morning called the attention of Gorham Parks, clerk of the Court of Appeals, to the allegations printed in several New York papers to the effect that some one had advance knowledge of what the court's decision in the Sugar-trust case would be, and had offered to sell it in Wall street on Friday last. Parks said: "The allegations are cruel and are certainly without foundation. The fact is that the judges held their last consultation on the case on Monday night, at which time a final decision was reached. Even the judges' private consultation clerk, Mr. Browley, was excluded from this consultation. No one outside of the judges knew what the decision was until it was handed to me in open court by Chief Judge Ruger at precisely ten o'clock Tuesday morning."

Mr. Parks was asked if he thought the error in the reading of the decision as first announced had any thing to do with arousing suspicions that there was jugglery somewhere. "Perhaps it had," said he. "It was very unfortunate that the mistake occurred when it did, but there are no possible grounds for such statements as have been printed."

Mr. Parks would not volunteer any information as to how the error occurred.

Killed in a Strike Riot.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—James W. Kerr, of the firm of Steiger & Kerr, proprietors of the Occidental Foundry, shot and killed Edward Coogan, a molders' apprentice, employed in the Vulcan Iron-works. Kerr and a non-union molder named Claussen were attacked on the street by a crowd of strikers and were being badly beaten, when Kerr drew his revolver and fired. The bullet struck young Coogan in the heart.

A Bold Robbery.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 27.—At noon yesterday Paymaster Atkinson of the Wynn Coke-works was seated alone at the company's office counting the money to pay the employes. Atkinson had just placed the money, $1,200, in envelopes, when suddenly a masked man covered him with a revolver and ordered him to throw up his hands.

Atkinson ran out of the office and gave an alarm. The robber seized the money and fled. A party gave chase. The robber turned and fired several shots at his pursuers. The yard boss hit the thief with a stone, causing him to drop his hat and part of the money. He was recognized as Perry Donaldson, a former employe of the company. A sheriff's posse is in search of the thief.

Deafness Can't Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucus lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucus surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Secretary Noble received a telegram yesterday stating that the Pottawattomie Indians in the Indian Territory have signed an agreement with the Cherokee Commission ceding to the Government the surplus lands of their reservation. Before these lands can be opened to public settlement the agreement must be ratified by Congress, and lands must be alloted to the Indians. The Secretary does not expect that any lands in the Indian Territory will be available for settlement until late in the fall.

THE Hawkeye Hay-Loader and C., B. & Q. Side Delivery Hay Rake, manufactured by Chambers, Bering, Quinlan Co., was at work in a hayfield about a mile from the city yesterday. A large number of farmers were present as well as quite a number from the city interested in farming. The special point of attraction was the Side Delivery Hay Rake, an implement destined to revolutionize the hay rake business of the country, it being a new departure in hay raking, for which there has been a demand among farmers for a long time. It saves a great deal of extra labor, there being no dumping as in the style of hay rakes, and avoids the driving over the entire field in order to windrow, as is the case with ordinary rakes. The C., B. & Q. Side Delivery Rake stirs up and turns over the hay and leaves it in a continuous windrow. It is an implement that will have a trade all over the country. C., B. & Q. Co. look upon this rake as one of the most valuable and important machines they make. The Hawkeye Hay Loader is conceded to be the best hay loader made; it has points no other loader possesses, and can do work no other loader can do. In a contest this week in a hayfield with two other rakes, the Hawkeye came out with flying colors, defeating both—the farmer went to town and paid cash for the Hawkeye. The line of goods made by C., B. & Q. are all leaders in their line. Their U. S. Combined Check Row Planter has proven par excellence; being a specialty, it meets with ready sale. Adding to this the Hawkye Hay Loader, C., B. & Q. Side Delivery Hay Rake, and not forgetting the well-known Barnes and C., B. & Q. Check Rowers, the Chambers, Bering, Quinlan Co. manufactory is one of the most important in promoting the prosperity of the city of Decatur.

CAMP 14 GETS $50.00.

Honors at Jacksonville—The '91 Encampment Comes to Decatur.

Decatur scored another victory at Jacksonville yesterday, when Col I. C. Pugh Camp, No. 14, S. of V., entered into the competitive drill in the first class at the Illinois Division Encampment, Sons of Veterans, against the Springfield and Peoria Camps. It was not expected that the Decatur Camp would go into Class A, as the boys are green and have been drilling but a short time. Captain Frank Cassell, however, had his nerve with him, and doubtless he thought if he could secure second prize in that class it would be better than first in Class B. He reckoned well, and but for one wrong command on his part, which was a slip of the tongue, Decatur would have captured first money. There was but one point in favor of Springfield over Decatur. Camp 14 walked right away from Peoria and got second place and the fifty dollar prize. Springfield took first prize, $100, and Peoria third prize, $25.

Speaking of the contest and the awards the Jacksonville Journal says:

The speaking having ended the crowd adjourned to the grand stand to view the competitive prize drills. At four o'clock twenty-one men from J. L. Crane Camp, No. 4, Springfield, appeared on the drill ground to compete for prize in Class A. Captain T. A. Roberts commanded the company and his masterly handling of his men showed him to be a thoroughly competent officer. One man had to retire, overcome by the heat.

At 4:30 Col. I. C. Pugh Camp, No. 14, of Decatur, in Class A, commanded by Capt. Cassell, marched on the ground and went through the movements, followed later on by Col. W. A. Thrush Camp, No. 25, of Peoria, Capt. T. J. Simpson.

The drills were finished by the performance of Gen. J. C. Smith Camp, No. 138, of Chicago.

The prizes were awarded as follows: Class A—First to J. L. Crane Camp, No. 4, Springfield; second to Camp Col. I. C. Pugh, Decatur; third to Camp Col. W. A. Thrush, Peoria. Zouave prize—First to J. L. Crane Camp, Springfield; second to Col. W. A. Thrush Camp, Peoria. B class—First to Col. G. B. Abbott Camp, Chicago; second to Gen. John C. Smith Camp, Chicago.

THE 1891 ENCAMPMENT.

By a unanimous vote it was decided to hold the Illinois Division Encampment in 1891 in Decatur. It may be held during the silver anniversary meeting of the Illinois Department, G. A. R., in the month of April.

Captain Frank Cassell of Camp 14, was elected a member of the Division Council and during the encampment was in charge of the S. V. school of instruction.

Decatur Camp will arrive home Saturday evening

Death of Samuel Swineheart.

Samuel Swineheart, aged 57, the Friends' Creek township farmer recently adjudged insane, died at the county poor farm this afternoon. He had refused to take any nourishment except coffee, since his afflictions came upon him, and had attempted to kill himself. He was the owner of 160 acres of land and was a good citizen. He leaves a family.

At the meeting of the Illinois Army Medical Association organized yesterday at Springfield, the following officers were elected. President, H. A. Johnson, of Chicago; vice presidents, Drs. A. T. Rauch, of Springfield.

Still On a Strike.

The settlement of the trouble on the Illinois Central railroad was not concluded yesterday, but probably will be to-day. If the men take the advice of their leader the road will be in operation to-morrow. The company have refused to grant the demand of the men for the discharge of Division Superintendent Russell.

Two Visitors.

Among the strangers in Decatur yesterday were Mr. H. F. Atkinson, of Sibley, Ill., executor of the extensive estate of Wm. Sibley, the seedman. Mr. A. was accompanied by the superintendent of the 140 Sibley farms in Ford county, and both were in the city for a personal inspection of the Decatur paved streets. They were driven about the city by Secretary Clokey of the Board of Trade, and J. G. Shea, of the Tile Company, was also in the carriage. At his own expense Mr. Atkinson has paved two blocks of street at Sibley with brick. The improvement will be extended.

In Custody.

Frank Burns and John Bryant are in custody for assaulting the tailor, David Woods, Saturday night on North Water street. The tailor and the police believe they have the right parties this time and will go to trial with a show of convicting them. John Caldwell, who was first arrested for the assault, is at liberty.

Another New Law Firm.

James M. Lee, of Decatur, and J. M. Gray, late of Vandalia, Ill., have formed a partnership for the practice of their profession and are established in their office over Ferriss & Co.'s shoe store. Both are young men of large experience in legal practice, are energetic and attentive to business, and can not fail to do well in this growing city, which the 1890 census will give about 20,000 inhabitants. Success to Lee & Gray.

The proposition to erect a Grand Army Memorial Hall in Decatur, commemorative of fallen heroes of the late war and as a fixed recognition of the fact that in Decatur, on April 6, 1866, the Grand Army of the Republic had its birth, is received with enthusiasm and steps are being taken to get the matter before the National encampment. Dunham Post, 141, this city, has appointed a committee to act at once. The committee met last night at the office of Secretary John A. Barnes at the Commonwealth Insurance office. Mayor M. F. Baby Beatrice.

The funeral of Beatrice, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Walker, took place last evening from the residence on West Main street and was largely attended by sympathizing friends of the couple who so suddenly lost their darling child. She was ill but a few days, and it seems but yesterday that she was cooing in the arms of her parents. Friends brought a profusion of fragrant floral offerings, many of which were of beautiful design. Rev. W. O. Miller, pastor of the Congregational church, conducted the beautiful service, reading a scripture selection, and offering tender words of consolation, beautiful in thought and impressive in conclusions. A prayer closed the service and those desiring to do so had an opportunity to look upon the babe who appeared as if in a peaceful sleep—a bright bud of promise who came into the home for a few short months to bless the parents and passing away to draw them nearer to the heavenly kingdom, whence its fresh spirit took its flight. The choir comprised D. L. Bunn, Bert Gher, Mrs. K. Harwood and Miss Jessie Harry, whose selections at the house were "Asleep in the Arms of Jesus" and "Beloved, it is Well," "When He Cometh to Make up His Jewels" was the selection at Greenwood. As the shadows of evening were fast gathering the body in its rich white casket was laid at rest in the narrow house of clay, which was lined with cotton and trimmed with a profusion of pond lilies and other flowers.

Exception to a Ruling.

Judge Reeves yesterday heard exceptions to the ruling of the master in chancery in the case of M. G. Patterson, the missing Decatur contractor. Patterson's bondsmen excepted to the master's ruling that money in the bank should be paid to parties who did work on the Orphan's Home chapel. A decision will be rendered Saturday or Monday.—Bloomington Pantagraph, June 27.

Fred Ham in Jail.

Fred Ham stands up under his trouble like a philanthropist. He says he used to be a traveling man for the Christie Clay Supply Co., of St. Louis. That was three months ago. He started from St. Louis Wednesday to travel for several other firms and on arriving in Decatur he put up at the New Deming. He had no money but he had a grip worth about $25 to a man in his line. He conducted himself queerly at the hotel, frankly stating that he had no money, and losing his coat. Then he made trouble by disrobing and leaving his room door open. In many ways he proved himself a troublesome and unwelcome guest and acted so oddly that a paper was issued to inquire into his sanity. Officers Brockway and Leech put him in the county jail and there he will probably remain until his friends come forward to take charge of him. The prosecution on the insanity accusation will not be pushed. Ham told the REPUBLICAN reporter this morning that he was not crazy. It is a plain case of "dead broke." Ham can be prosecuted for nonpayment of his board bill, which amounts to $1.50. Ham says he would like to get out, so he can begin suit for damages.

HORSES IN HISTORY.

How Certain Heroes Killed Their Horses to Inspire Their Men.

Among noted horses in history are Roan Barbary, the famous steed of Richard the Second; "the noble horse as white as snow," which carried Henry the Fifth on the great day of Agincourt; and the horse ridden by Jeanne d'Arc, which was also white, as became her virginal purity. Then there are the gallant steeds which belonged to the king maker, the Earl of Warwick. At Towton, where the White Rose triumphed mainly through the earl's generalship and courage, he rode a horse named Maleoh; and, at the crisis of the battle, when the Lancastrians were gaining the upper hand, inspired his men to renewed efforts by killing his horse, to show that he would rather die than retreat. Here is Monstrelet's description of the incident:

"The earl, hearing that his uncle was slain and his men defeated, cried out with tears, 'I pray to God that he will receive the souls of all who die in this battle,' then exclaimed, 'Dear Lord God, I have none other succor but thine in this world now, who art my creator and redeemer; I ask vengeance therefore at thy hands!' Then, drawing his sword, he kissed the cross at the handle, and said to his men, 'Whoever chooses to return home may, for I shall live or die this day with such as may like to remain with me.' On saying this he dismounted and killed his horse with his sword."

This exploit was frequently performed by the ancient heroes; and Warwick himself repeated it at Barnet, his last field when he rode his favorite black destrier, Saladin, an animal of great size and beauty.

"He kissed the destrier on his frontal," says Lord Lytton, in his brilliant historical romance of "The Last of the Barons," "and Saladin, as if conscious of the coming blow, bent his proud head humbly, and licked his lord's steel clad hand. So associated together had been horse and horseman, that had it been a human sacrifice the bystanders could not have been more moved. And when, covering the charger's eyes with one hand, the earl's dagger descended, bright and rapid, a groan went through the ranks. But the effect was unspeakable. The men knew at once that to them, and them alone, their lord entrusted his fortune and his life, and they were moved to more than mortal daring."

The favorite horse of Richard the Third was called "White Surrey." There are other historical horses—if I may so call them—of which one would gladly have learned something, as, for instance, the steed which Hernando Cortez rode on his great victory over the Aztecs, when the Spanish chargers filled with wild dismay; that of Gustavo Adolphus, which he received his death wound at Lutzen; that of Sir Philip Sidney at Zutphen, and of John Hampden, as he rode away, mortally wounded, from Chalgrave field, through the green glades, and under the shadow of the beech trees; that of Sobieski, when he led his Polish warriors to the deliverance of Vienna; that of Marlborough, when he crushed the armies of France and Bohemia at Blenheim. William the Third was riding his favorite horse Sorrel, in the park of Hampton court, when he met with his fatal accident. "He urged his horse," says Macaulay, "to strike into a gallop just at the spot where a mole had been at work. Sorrel stumbled on the mole hill, and went down on his knees. The king fell off, and broke his collar bone." The Jacobites celebrated Sorrel in many a bitter pasquinade, as if the poor horse had been the willing agent of his royal master's death. At the battle of the Alma Mr. Kinglake may be trusted—Lord Raglan and his horse turned the tide of victory in favor of the allies, by ascending a knoll right within the midst of the Russian position, and thus impressing the enemy with a sense of defeat. "The knoll stood out bold and plain. It was clear that even from afar the enemy would make out that it was crowned by a group of plumed officers; and, Lord Raglan's imagination being so true, and so swift, as to gift him with the faculty of knowing how, in given circumstances, other men must be thinking and feeling, it hardly cost him a moment to infer that this apparition of a few horsemen on the span of a hill was likely to govern the common's fate."—All the Year Round.

Unscrewed Bell Cord.

Gus Williams: I was on the stage in a certain town one night, and, looking over the audience, I saw a man in a prominent seat with one of his feet on the back of the chair in front of him. It annoyed me, but I didn't like to point him out. I tried a ruse. Taking a slip of paper from my pocket I looked at it closely and then said: "There is a message in the foyer with a telegram addressed to ——. I can't make out the name but he is from Missouri."

In about one second the chap who had hung out his foot as a sign arose and walked out to the foyer. But he didn't come back.—Chicago Tribune.

Inviting an Invitation.

A minister had traveled some distance to preach, and at the conclusion of the morning service waited for some one to invite him to dine; but the congregation dispersed without noticing him.

When the house was nearly empty the minister stepped up to a gentleman and said: "Brother, will you go home to dinner with me today?"

"Why, I—I—you live——"

"About eighteen miles from here, sir."

"No, but you must dine with me," answered the brother, with a flushed face, which invitation the clergyman gravely accepted.—Youth's Companion.

Missed a Good Thing.

Those old time chaps who tortured people by fire, boiling oil, thumb screws, the rack and other pleasant methods didn't know anything about sawdust. A man buried under six feet of it can live for about twenty minutes, and he suffers fully as much as if a ton of brick was piled above him. A Wisconsin man who was saved after fifteen minutes says he would rather be burned at the stake.—Duluth Free Press.

The New Discovery.

You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or any Throat, Lung or Chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. Trial Bottles Free, at King & Wood's drug store.

Ancient Feet.

A noticeable thing about the statues found in our museums of art, supposed to represent the perfect figures of ancient men and women, is the apparently disproportionate size of their feet. We moderns are apt to pronounce them too large, particularly those of the females. It will be found, however, that for symmetrical perfection these feet could not be better. A Greek sculptor would not think of such a thing as putting a nine inch foot on a five and one-half foot woman. Their types for these classical marble figures were taken from the most perfect forms of living persons.—Shoe and Leather Reporter.

Looking for a Servant 1,215 Years Old.

Many queerly written and peculiarly worded advertisements find their way into the hands of the young men who flank the main counter in our business office. The other day a gem was handed in. It was a "want ad.," but the young man who took it did not know whether it was intended for the personal column or the puzzle department. It read like this: "Wanted—A Sweetish girl 1215 years old 2 in famial." Its only redeeming feature was its brevity, and it was finally placed near the bottom of the column in the waste basket.—Chicago Herald.

"Your Grace."

It is told of the late Duke of Rutland that he one day met the little daughter of one of his gamekeepers. "Well, little one," he asked, "and what do you call yourself?" "For what we are about to receive may the Lord make us truly thankful; amen," was the astonishing reply. The child had simply been following home instructions to the effect that if the duke should ever address her she should be sure to say, "Your grace."—New York Tribune.

A Child's Thought.

A little Swedish girl, absorbed in gazing at the starry skies, being asked of what she was thinking, said: "I was thinking if the wrong side of heaven is so glorious, what must the right side be!" Of course, the wrong side with her was that which looked on our world. Surely, she thought, the right side, that looks toward the throne of God, must be glorious indeed.—Montreal Star.

To keep the bright, green color of summer cabbage and some other vegetables, boil fast in plenty of water in which has been dissolved a piece of washing soda the size of two peas; cover until the water boils and then take off the lid. If the steam is shut in the cabbage will be yellow and unsightly.

The costliest horse barn in the world belongs to D. E. Crouse and is located at Syracuse, N. Y. It has now cost the owner, a millionaire horseman, something like $700,000. Incidental expenses will make the stable cost little short of a round million.

Sufferers

FROM Stomach and Liver derangements—Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick-Headache, and Constipation—find a safe and certain relief in Ayer's Pills. In all cases where a cathartic is needed, these Pills are recommended by leading physicians.

Dr. T. E. Hastings, of Baltimore, says: "Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic and aperient within the reach of my profession."

Dr John W. Brown, of Oceana, W. Va., writes: "I have prescribed Ayer's Pills in my practice, and find them excellent. I urge their general use in families."

"For a number of years I was afflicted with biliousness which almost destroyed my health. I tried various remedies, but nothing afforded me any relief until I began to take Ayer's Pills."—G. S Wanderlich, Scranton, Pa.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years, and am satisfied I should not be alive to-day if it had not been for them. They cured me of dyspepsia when all other remedies failed, and their occasional use has kept me in a healthy condition ever since."—T. P Brown, Chester, Pa.

"Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills, and deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. For over two years past I have taken one of these Pills every night before retiring. I would not willingly be without them."—G. W. Bowman, 26 East Main st., Carlisle, Pa.

"Ayer's Pills have been used in my family upwards of twenty years, and have completely verified all that is claimed for them. In attacks of piles, from which I suffered many years, they afforded me greater relief than any medicine I ever tried."—Thomas F. Adams, Holly Springs, Texas

ROTARY SHUTTLE

BEST ON EARTH.

Finest of the fine, runs one-half faster, one-half easier, and makes one-half the noise the old style shuttle machine. The continuous rotary motion is the only true principle for a sewing machine.

The world's oldest veterans in sewing machine invention and manufacturing are at the head of the "STANDARD" Sewing Machine Company. Keep up with the times, and get the best. It will pay you better to buy the "STANDARD" than to receive one of the old style machines as a gift. The rotary principle applied to the sewing machine is as great an improvement as the band saw is to the old fashioned jig saw.
